

Support the Flowertown Players and support your community!

The purchase of a Playbill Ad is your way of putting the community into the James F. Dean Community Theatre. Through the sale of advertising to local businesses, our productions can increase the budget costs to be bigger and even more exciting than ever.

By placing an Ad in the playbill for one Main Stage Production, you have the opportunity to reach up to 2,000 people to build customer awareness of your business, promote your products or services, and increase sales. You can gain an advantage over your competitor and help out the theatre.

Although the theater has a few paid staff, our productions are made up of community volunteers who invest their time in putting on great entertainment. This is an excellent win-win partnership, but we need your help to fill our playbill with corporate ads!
